

TEACHING ENGLISH IN THE FIELDS OF TOURISM

Laylo Mirzoeva

Teacher, Termez State University

ABSTRACT

As English is considered the lingua franca of the twenty-first century, everyone needs to have a good command of English today and the importance of teaching English for professional uses and particularly in the field of tourism is undeniable. English proficiency is required in all professional areas but it becomes essential in the tourist industry because of its specific characteristics.

Keywords: tourism, field, interest, community, attractive.