

FICTION AS THE WAY OF FORMING SOCIO-CULTURAL COMPETENCE

Feruza Kattayeva

Lecturer, Termez State University

ABSTRACT

This article is about the ways of forming socio-cultural competence through extensive reading. Cultural texts today occupy a huge place in the process of teaching foreign languages, as they introduce students with the realities of the country of the target language, and also provide additional knowledge in the field of geography, education, culture and life target language countries. The literature of the country of the target language contains a large layer sociocultural information.

Keywords: socio-cultural, competence, literature, teaching, fiction.