

THE PECULIARITIES OF PERCEPTION VERBS AND THEIR USAGE IN THE LANGUAGES

Mohichekhra Olimovna Yalgosheva

Master student of the Department of Foreign Languages,
Chirchik State Pedagogical Institute of Tashkent Region

ABSTRACT

This article is devoted to the perceptive verbs in the language and their indispensable peculiarities in the language. Perceptive verbs are considered as pole semantic verbs in English, which have more than one unique meaning.

Keywords: prototypical meanings, verbs of perception, active perception, passive perception, copulative verbs.